

Prince of Wales Now 'Back at Work,' Will Tee Off at Ancient Golf Club

Will Make Drive With Gold Ball, Give Caddy Sovereign for Finding It and Pay for Wine at Dinner.

LONDON, Sept. 26.—The Prince of Wales is the first member of the royal family "to get back to work" after the summer holidays. He will play himself in "to-morrow" as Captain of the Royal and Ancient Golf Club of St. Andrews, from which eminent office Field Marshal Earl Haig just retired.

The Royal Highness will be required to drive off from the first tee before eyes of thousands of critical spectators, thus having as severe a test as upon his nerves as has any prince-elect since the Royal and Ancient was founded in 1754.

When King Edward VII was elected captain of the club, about 10 years ago, the "playing in" was done by a deputy. The caddy who finds the ball and runs it to the Captain is usually awarded a sovereign. The ball is moulded in gold, when the Captain is of Royal blood, and in silver when he is of lower rank, and is then added to the collection attached to two silver clubs.

With the Prince of Wales contributing tomorrow there will be three balls, tokens of King Edward, of Leopold and the new Captain. He is 162 silver balls in the collection.

The Prince of Wales to-morrow will preside at the club dinner, which is always a feature of the ceremony, and one of the privileges will be playing for all the wine consumed.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 26.—Canada came to the rescue of the Volstead Act to-day.

This bond will be returned by the Dominion Government when the shipper furnishes proof that the liquor has reached its proper destination and has not fallen into the hands of United States bootleggers.

Wanamaker Service Covers Every Field of Need

Some One Has Called Cheerfulness

the bright weather of the heart.

Even if you belong to a family such as a friend of the writer said he did, when excusing himself for his ugly behavior, saying, "My father was disagreeable and I am like him, disagreeable also, and I know it."

Oh, the pity of it that a cross-grained man does not retreat from the world or find an asylum where he may be cured of an infirmity which spreads misery and pain!
